Notes:

The above tables document the official supported workstation configurations by aal.

All information in this document applies to eSIS 9.1

1. Windows XP and IE7 may work with eSIS 9.1 but will not be certified by aal.
2. Windows XP and JInitiator 1.3.1.28 may work with eSIS 9.1, and aal (and the NCWISE Service Desk) will support it on a case by case basis, but the 1.3.1.28/9.1 configuration will not be certified by aal.
3. Due to a required Oracle Application Server (OAS) update, 1.3.1.28 must be installed on all workstations running 9.1 and therefore is the only version available to download from the NCWISE website.

** Only this specific version of JVM is supported with Mac OS X v10.2.8.

Other:

- A. VISTA and Windows 7 will not be certified for use with eSIS 9.1.
- B. JInitiator does not work with VISTA and therefore will not be certified with VISTA.
- C. Mac OS X v10.4 ("Tiger") and Safari 2.X may work with eSIS 9.1 but it is not certified.
- D. Adobe Acrobat 8.0 is not certified for use with eSIS 9.1.
- E. Applications (e.g., Microsoft Office) are not certified for use with eSIS.
- F. Google Chrome is not supported.
- G. Microsoft Internet Explorer 8 (IE8) will not be certified for use on eSIS 9.1.
- H. Mac OS X v10.5 ("Leopard") and v10.6 ("Snow Leopard") will not be certified on eSIS 9.1.

NCWISE Service Desk does not support platforms nor applications that are not certified. Users may use non-certified platforms and applications at their own risk.
